Edison Reception desks

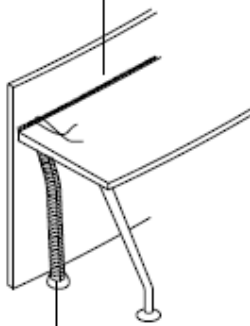

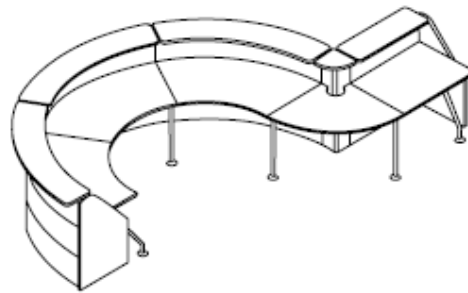

Reception: the vertical curved and straight panels matched with the connection elements at 90° can give rise to an infinity of compositions. The work-tops are equipped with a soft bristle that allows the passage of cable between the top itself and the vertical panel. The receptions can also be used as dividing panels (without work-tops) to delimit areas reserved zones. the system of hooking and fixing the panels has metal stirrups that act as foot as well as a support for the upper tops in white satinised glass.
